

WHEN TO GET LEGAL COUNSEL

When your patient is looking for the proper legal counsel to prosecute his or her claim, there are a number of important factors to consider.

Primarily, your patient will wish to retain counsel who specialize in the area of personal injury. This firm must have experienced lawyers and clerks who can pursue the claim and are willing to take the file on a contingency basis.

Tierney Stauffer LLP has specialized in personal injury for 25 years. We are able to provide financial support claims that require such support and can do so through all levels of courts.

Secondly, geographic location is important so that the injured party does not have to travel. The Tierney Stauffer LLP approach is to travel to the location of the injured party whenever possible.

We have formed a network of associated counsel throughout Ontario and have referral counsel throughout North America.

As clearly illustrated by the maze of limitation periods, choosing a lawyer who specializes in the area of personal injury is critical.
